

At about 7:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 27, the Supreme Court will rule on Janus.

The court is expected to impose so-called “Right to Work” on public employees throughout the nation. This is the culmination of a decades-long legal attack financed by right-wing billionaires and corporations. On Janus Decision Day, Washington’s workers will show we are more resolved than ever to stick together!

Wednesday, June 27 from 11:30 am to 12:30 pm

EVERETT — Worker’s Memorial Courtyard (by the Snohomish County Courthouse) facing Wetmore Ave.

SEATTLE — Harborview Medical Center, 325 9th Ave., Seattle, WA 98104

SPOKANE — Rotary Fountain in Riverfront Park, 507 N. Howard St., Spokane, WA 99201

TACOMA — Federal Courthouse, 1717 Pacific Ave, Tacoma, WA 98402

VANCOUVER — Fort Vancouver Way & E. Mill Plain Blvd., Vancouver, WA 98663

Check www.TheStand.org on Wednesday morning between 7:30 and 8 a.m. to see how the Supreme Court rules. ALSO download Union Strong signs for selfies on social media and for banner-waving events in Seattle and Tacoma.

On Wednesday, let’s make sure we send a message:

We are more resolved than ever to stick together and fight back!

